Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Hundreds of thousands of college students will graduate this year from American colleges and universities. In this turbulent economy, students face a workplace far different from that of the past. They need a new game plan. This book explains the processes, provides the research, and outlines the tools necessary to help college students navigate one of the most important journeys of their lives: finding a first career. Bringing the practical and philosophical together in one easy to read resource, Beth Kuhel and Mauri Artz deliver a comprehensive guide to help reduce stress and assist in finding that ultimate first job. The book covers the five vital steps that are often overlooked and the order in which they should be taken for maximum benefit: self analysis; identifying a sustainable industry that matches personal strengths; identifying a sustainable place to live that houses viable industries; setting up an informational interview with someone who has a dream job in that industry; and finally, making the match and sealing the deal. The perfect compass to help young people find a calling, choose...
